SIX INJURED IN TWO-CAR CRASH ON RT. 26 TUESDAY

Six persons were injured in a two-car collision at 5:45 p. m. Tuesday at the westerly driveway of Telstar Regional High School.

The vehicles were operated by Bernard J. Pilotte, 51, of Berlin, N. H., going toward Bethel on Route 26, and David Lane, 17, of Newry, traveling in the opposite direction. Lane was making a left hand turn to the entrance of the school property when the accident occurred.

Reportedly Mrs. Florence Pilotte, 52, of Berlin suffered abrasions and lacerations about the face and hands. She was taken to the Androscoggin Valley Hospital, Berlin, and admitted for observation. Mr. Pilotte was not injured.

Lane suffered lacerations of the head. He was able to attend school Wednesday. Four passengers in the Lane vehicle were taken to Rumford Community Hospital. Mary Jane Dwy, 21, reportedly received a broken ankle, cuts and bruises; John Dwy, three, not seriously hurt; Wayne Lane, 14, a broken leg, and Rosanne Bennett, 17, had cuts and bruises.

Both vehicles were reported a total loss. State Trooper Haven Hutchison of West Paris, assisted by the Bethel Police Department investigated the accident.

S. A. D. #44 TO OFFER FREE, REDUCED PRICE LUNCH PROGRAM

Schools of M. S. A. D. #44 will again this year carry on a free and reduced price meal policy for children unable to pay the full price. Local school officials will be asked to adopt a family size income scale to assist in determining eligibility. Families falling within certain income scales or those suffering from unusual circumstances or hardships are urged to apply for free or reduced price meals for their children. They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office at each school. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year. The form itself is simple to complete and requests information needed to determine economic need based on income and number of persons in the family and any unusual circumstances or hardships which affect the family's ability to pay for school meals. The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

We have been informed that the Emergency Employment Program under which we hired an extra police officer may not be funded another year. After Sept. 15, it will be on a monthly basis. This is due to a health and welfare bill being vetoed in Washington. This program was part of the bill.

The highway department is still working on Bird Hill. They have cut the right of way and blasted ledge in preparation to building a section of the road. This year will be costly for the length we can build due to the outcrop of ledge encountered. It will take the most of the T. R. I. funds available this year to get the project started. In the future sections better progress will be possible.

We are asked frequently as to how well the contractors on the sewage program are maintaining schedule. They are not required to give daily reports to us, but from conversations with their representatives and observation the project appears to be operating smoothly and should be completed in the allotted time.

FOOTBALL/CROSS COUNTRY AT TELSTAR SATURDAY

According to a schedule released last week the Telstar Rebels will meet teams from Messalonskee with contests in football and cross country on Saturday, Sept. 9. The grid contest will start at 1:30, with the barrier competition at half time.

Robert M. Bean celebrated his 88th birthday with a small party at his home on August 31. Cake, ice cream and presents were enjoyed. He received many cards from family and friends alike.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Parker Jr. and Rhonda, Devon, Conn., were week end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Stevens. Kim and Mitch Parker, who have spent some time in Bethel, returned home with them.

S-Sgt. and Mrs. Walter Bailey Jr., and Jacki, Minot AFB, North Dakota, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Bailey and Kimberly, Sacramento, Calif., have all been visiting at the home of their mother, Elizabeth Bailey.

This is the first time Gilbert has been home in five years and the first time the entire family has been together in seven years. Gilbert's wife, Carol, had never been east before. She witnessed her first thunder shower while here and even enjoyed it. Sgt. and Mrs. Bailey and Jacki also visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Zale, Rumford Corner.

GROVERS WRITE OF WORK IN UGANDA

22 August 1972

Nakasongola, Uganda East Africa.

We are living at White Father's Mission in Nakasongola, about 70 miles north of Kampala. The ranch, Keys Cooperative Ranching Society Ltd. is another dozen miles north, on the main road from Kampala to Gulu. The road is a good one, recently realigned and paved with absolute straight stretches of one to five miles. Lake Victoria is about 4000 ft above sea level & here at Nakasongola, we are still about 3000 ft. The equator is just a bit south of the International Airport at Entebbe, but the weather here is just about ideal. The daytime temperature about 85 & nights cool enough for a blanket—humidity is comfortable. Right here we get about 20 inches of rain a year, which is fairly well dispersed throughout the year, with the exception of Dec., Jan. & Feb., when it is apt to be a bit dry.

Keys Ranch consists of 6000 acres of Savannah, gently rolling with what is known as a couple of swamps—actually, the swamps are dry and grassy like the rest of the ranch with the exception of prolonged periods of rain when the water collects a bit, but soon passes on to continued on Page Four

GREENWOOD

— Mrs. Collista Mori —

It seems to me like I've been looking out over the hills of green rolling hills flashed in the midmorning's September.

It was warm, when I took the old that winds up the hill that apple tree. He jammed from beneath a flash was gone.

A single scarf of over the rise above the road. My eyes were full of bright sky as I walked from the scars.

A little farther up, I turned right to avoid a last winter.

There were scattered bushes among the hills below.

To the left was the hill which I had been told was the air held in place.

Just above the tree, I heard the black, beat his guard the pond then giant peaks which I as a magnet attracts.

Here among the hills, I moved on toward the brilliant with the came birches. There and there among woods around.

I could now see the trees standing above the ripples of the pond.

A single heron stood near the mouth of the quite in harmony.

I heard the piercing cry from deep in the air. A few ducks floated on a clear from my pen as they seemed to be in thin air.

I looked at the sparkling sunlight which I was standing above the edge of the cliff. I watched, a single of the sun but only then the luminosity again.

Oh humble the bee, I visited the area that was there. Everywhere there was a silent pond dappled with the light care.

Below the green hills, I heard the coolness. Not a valley escape could that quiet splendor.

For some time I sat, I edged it all. Then I stepped into the grove. To the deep way to the road, a shorter way but very home. That far road and there was a more than ever.

As I faded because of the drooping leaves, I heard the home the old oak tree on the water as I took a belly-dig as a cheery rattling to dance.

When I came up the dappled valley, still I heard the home the old oak tree on the water as I took a belly-dig as a cheery rattling to dance.

GREENWOOD CITY

Mrs. Collista Morgan, Corres. — It seems to me that only yesterday we looked out on early summer's smile of greeting where the rolling hills flashed waves of flow-ers in the mid-morning sun. Now it's September.

It was warm, near 80 degrees when I took the old Spring Road that winds up the hill past an ancient apple tree. Here a partridge jumped from beneath it and like a flash was gone.

A single scarf of breeze rippled over the rise above me and down the road. My eyes were filled with a fall of bright sky as I looked upward from the scars of the earth. A little farther up the slope I turned right to avoid the cuttings of last winter.

There were scattered pines and beeches among the hemlocks on the slopes below.

To the left was the mountain side which drowns in the afternoon sun. The air held the forest fragrance.

Just above the tree tops a crow, sky black, beat his way leisurely toward the pond then across it to a magnet attracts a compass.

Here among the hemlocks I sat on a boulder and listened to that impudent fellow, the squirrel, as he tried to alarm the wood dwellers of my presence. He kept to his aerial turnpikes then from a distance he'd rattle again.

I moved on toward the ledges among the brilliant white stems of the canoe birches. They mingled here and there among the other woods around.

I could now see the dark mountains standing above and beyond the ripples of the pond.

A single heron stood among the reeds near the mouth of the San-tim quite in harmony with the scene.

I heard the piercing note of a hawk from deep in the forest. A few ducks floated on the water; a clear from my perch high up as they seemed to be suspended in thin air.

I looked at the sparkle of after-noon sunlight which fell like a shining shower of luminous rain through the birch leaves at the very edge of the cliff. As I continued to watch, a single cloud drifted across the sun but only for a mo-ment then the luminosity was there again.

As I humbled the bee with luxuri-ous leisure, visited the single gold-ened red that was there at my side. Everywhere there was stillness; the silent pond dappled with sun- beams, the light caress of the breeze, the green hills, the serene Salmon River, and the shadows of their coolness. Nothing in the wide valley could compete with that quiet splendor.

For some time I sat, looked, and enjoyed it all. Then I crossed the top of the ledge and walked on toward the grove. To the left lay the steep way to the road which I took, a shorter way but a hotter way home. That far road gave off a heat and there was no shade. I walked more than ever that sum-mer was fading because there was a heat on the drooping leaves and on the flowers by the roadside.

As I neared home there was a flash from the old oak tree, then a flash on the water as the king- fisher took a belly-flipper. Then came the cheery rattling call from the distance.

When I came up the driveway, I entered the valley, still patterned with sun and the pond was like a lake, glittering in its jewels and the rainbow colors of my garden flowers.

UPTON

— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —

The Bible Spell presented by the children in Upton under the direction of Larry Wade surpassed any program I have ever attended in town. Ken Cyphers expressed very favorable remarks and Ray Chittum asked in the following church meeting that it be recorded in the minutes as a very moving program. Mr.
Wade suggested at the beginning that each of us interpret the presentation for himself. The high point for me was an acute awareness of the worthlessness of any of us until we become a part of the Cross and Resurrection.

The Union Church held a meeting Saturday evening. The following were elected: chairman, Frank Tucker; secretary, Ray Chittum; treasurer, Frank Tucker; pastor, Dale Thurston; trustee for five years, Edw. Brennon, trustee for one year, Merna Allen; building committee, A. Angevine, Edw. Brennon, Charles Heywood; religious committee, Lawrence Wade, Robert Tucker, Dale Thurston, Mrs. Dave Miller; fund raising committee, Charles Heywood, Avery Angevine, Anita Harris, Lawrence Wade, Mer-na Allen; music director, Ray Chittum.

It was announced that the promisory note has been paid in full. Avery, Dale, Ken, and Arline were appointed to gather ideas and give them to Colleen Chittum concerning the proposed centennial observance in 1974. Since the records were destroyed by fire, if anyone has information including couples who were married or persons christened in the church, names and addresses of former pastors, or anything which might be helpful to make this observance meaningful, we will be grateful to receive it.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cyphers entertained several guests at a cook-out Sunday.

Errol school opened Tuesday. Since the bus has not been delivered, Mary McLeod picked up the three Upton pupils with her station wagon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Judkins II, Judy Brooks and Peter Judkins were guests of Fred Judkins during the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. George Scholz and Walter Wade of Dover, Mass., were in town during the week end.

Arthur Lemieux and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Charron were at the Lemieux camp during the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Fuller called on his father, Monday.

Russ Hallock, South Portland, visited us Sunday. Most of the other callers at the "B" hive" were va-cacioners on their way home.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Bethel Oxford County Citizen:
It was good to see the passage from Micah mentioned in the church notice, Aug. 31. Requirements listed in chapter 6, verse 8, are active verbs: to do, to love, and to walk.
In considering their modifiers, we find justice, mercy, and humility.
And that is the way to live.

Your readers may wish to review the entire verse; the word mercy was omitted last week.

Micah says: He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee; but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?

In Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures, Mary Baker Eddy says: "Justice is the handmaid of mercy." (Page 36) and on page 300 she says: "Love is the liberator."
With all good wishes,
Irene H. Thompson

GROVERS IN UGANDA

lower places and eventually to Lake Kyoga, a wide place in the Nile as it passes from Lake Victoria on to Lake Albert.

The water supply for the ranch, like most of the ranches hereabouts, consists of two valley tanks.
A valley tank is a man-made reservoir, an excavation below ground level, located in a so-called swamp—usually the newer valley tanks have a capacity of 1/2 million gallons. At the moment, the valley tanks are fenced & the water is pumped by hand into nearby concrete watering troughs, but we do have a 9 H. P. gas engine with attached pump, plus overhead tank & piping to be installed.

We have just completed a trans-ranch road. It is about 2 1/2 miles long & divides the ranch into two almost equal sections. We laid out this road with a hand compass & did a surprisingly accurate job, then the Vet. Det. came through with a dozer and a scraper and pushed out the trees and removed the top soil.
Most of the soil here is the red laterite that we encountered in Laos and in India, but the low spots do have some good black loam.

Our Coop has been in active operation only since last Nov.-Dec., so, there is much to do. My position is that of Ranch Manager and I work thru and train an African to take over in a period of 15 months or less. There was an American here for the first four months of operation, but he had to leave. He had had two Trainees who also didn't work out, so it was a bit of a problem to take over (if there had been no problem there would not have been a job for me) but things are going in the right direction now and the managing committee and other Coop members are quite happy with Jane & I and the way things are going.

Originally, the livestock consisted of some that came with the ranch plus some the Members contributed as share capital. There were typical animals of the area—some small and others of good size—mature females of 500-800 lbs, steers 650-1000 lbs—slim, leggy animals with little meat.
Dressing percentages would go as low as 40%. We are selectively selling the old herd, and purchasing breeding stock, bred heifers of the Boran breed as fast as the funds are available. Boran is a breed that has become quite stable thru a more or less hit or miss selection program.
There is a bit of zebu blood in the stock, giving them a slight hump at the shoulder, plus the adaptability of local breeds. At this point and time the Boran is the best we have. There have been and is continuing, many attempts to cross breed with American and European (exotics) breeds, but the attempts these attempts greatly interest me, but mainly my job is to work myself out of a job in the shortest possible time, and leave a viable ranch that will continue to grow—so I will have to leave crossbreeding, etc., to others.

Recently, we purchased 40-15/16 Blood Boran Heifers in calf. These are nice beefy looking animals for this area at this time. The local leggy beef animals hereabouts gain from 4 to 7 pounds per day—it looks as though good Boran steers would exceed a pound a day gain.
Also, we have 50, 2 year old steers that will be delivered shortly.

We are at present negotiating a loan for the purchase of 100 bred heifers, plus 3 bulls, and another lot of feeder steers. Feeder steers are from 20-30 months of age, that will be salable after a year or so on grass with no supplements. It costs about 80 Uganda shillings per year to keep one mature beef animal. Beef sales in the local market for about 5 U. shillings per pound and on the hoof for 65 cents per pound. Seven U. shillings equal 1 U. S. dollar.

BARRACKS AND AUXILIARY, 2943

The Barracks and Auxiliary, No.
2943, of World War I held their first fall meeting, Tuesday evening, Sept.
5, at the Legion Hall on Vernon Street.

The Auxiliary opened in due form with Olive Head, president, presiding. Ten members were in attendance, with four officers absent by roll call. The following served for the evening: Adeline Dexter, secretary; Iola Forbes as chaplain.

The business meeting then followed. Owing to illness, Mary Moore, chaplain, and Leona Curtis, secretary, resigned and their resignation were accepted with regret and sympathy.

The officers nominated were Iola Forbes, secretary and Agnes Chase, chaplain, were then elected, and Past President Marjorie Cummings gave the obligation.

It was voted to send a check to Lillian Beals, to use as "she sees fit" for the Bazaar, Oct. 16. Council being held at Strong. It is hoped that Bethel will be represented.

The general orders were read for the good of the order.

A thank you goes to Leona Curtis for the gift of a new brief case for the new secretary's use. Cards are also to be sent to the ill. Our heartfelt sympathy also goes to our historian and first president, Hilda Donahue, in her hours of need, the death of her son, Errol.

A reported 50% membership was given. We are trying for 100% to keep the traveling trophy, which was ours for 1972. Kindly mail your membership dues to Marjorie Cummings, Hanover, Maine, 04237.

The committee for October is:
Frances Bennett, Iola Forbes and Cora Bennett.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS
OXFORD COUNTY OFFICIALS

It is reported that the Maine Supreme Court, by a unanimous decision rendered Aug. 22, 1972, denied the appeals of Samuel Stone and Seaton Stone.

Both brothers were convicted of felonious assault, while Samuel was convicted of two additional charges of committing a felony with a firearm. Both were sentenced to the Maine State Prison.

The convictions were the result of a violent attack in 1968 on Maine State Police Officer Gerald Smith of Bethel, after he had stopped a vehicle in Upton, in which the Stone brothers were occupants. During the attack, the trooper was disarmed and his police cruiser disabled.

Within hours, arrest warrants were issued and the Stones were apprehended in New Hampshire and returned to Maine for trial. Assistant County Attorney Michael O'Donnell conducted the trial in the Superior Court and also argued the case for the State in the Supreme Court.

The defendants were represented by Basil Latty of Portland.
